was raised that they were thus deprived of their constitutional rights, as was also the State of South Carolina, but it was not decided by the Senate.\textsuperscript{29}

\textbf{CERTIFICATE OF ELECTIONS}

\textbf{CHAIR}

Presiding Officer Takes Initiative To Enforce Rules

\textbf{CHAIRMEN OF COMMITTEES}

\textbf{CHARTS ALLOWED ON SENATE FLOOR}

There is no Standing Rule that regulates the display of charts, exhibits, etc., on the Senate floor. Rule XVII of the Rules for the Regulation of the Senate Wing of the United States Capitol sets out the guidelines for such displays.\textsuperscript{1} Prior to its promulgation, regulation of such displays was \textsuperscript{1} See \textit{Rules and Manual United States Senate}, Sen. Doc. 100-1, 100th Cong., section 98.

managed by the Sergeant at Arms under the precedents and practices of the Senate.²

²See Nov. 21, 1967, 90-1, Record, p. 38527.